COMMERCIAL GAZETTE

5 ITS NAME Imports, this Paper is a medium for the publication of ADVERTISEMENTS ONLY; it is not a Newspaper.

6 It is issued TWICE A WEEK, on the mornings of MONDAY and THURSDAY.

7 UNDEK COPIES are circulated GRATIS weekly, viz. one to each of the Presidency Towns of Bombay it is very freely distributed.

8 It is intended to be a medium for the recognition of the number of Copies issued and the price of each.

9 It is unnecessary to enlarge on the advantages which a Publication like the ADVERTISER offers to the Commercial and Manufacturing Community of the Bombay Presidency. It may suffice merely to suggest the following:

10 Being exclusively devoted to Advertisements, it is especially sought and consulted by those requiring this information.

professional, or personal, which influence the distribution of a Newspaper, the ADVERTISER addresses itself alike to all classes, and is equally distributed over all parts of the Presidency, in the Civil Station, the Military Cantonments, and the Commercial Town.

3. As the Scale of Charges is so low, and upon that now adopted by the Daily Newspapers, the considerable advantage offered by the ADVERTISER may be added that of embodying those afforded by advertising in all the other Papers, and at a greatly reduced cost.

MR. McCOLLUM'S GIRCUS.—Last night a favorable performance was given under the patronage of the Honorable W. C. Foré. The program of the first class seats was so very great, that in order to afford accommodation to all applicants, Mr. McCollum was obliged to remove to the second section of the concert many of the first class seats. Among the most interesting and best of those performed were those by Mr. McCollum were most amazing, and never before witnessed in Bombay. They will be repeated to-night.

It was announced that Dr. McDougall who was proposed by Mr. Campbell, and seconded by the Secretary as a member of the Society under Rule 1. It would be ballotted for at the next meeting. The presents for the Library, consisting of the last published volume of the Asiatic Society, the Memoirs of the Asiatic Society, the Memoirs of the Asiatic Society, the Memoirs of the Asiatic Society, the 6th Number of the Madras Government Gazette, and the 6th Number of the Madras Government Gazette, were presented.

This is a highly important and interesting paper and will be published in the Society's Transactions. The author after referring to the little ward evidence of the existence of typhoid fever in India relates six fatal cases which fell under his observation in the 33rd Regiment of Foot at Deesa in the autumn of 1859, enumerates the leading symptoms which characterized the disease, and enters minutely into the appearances presented after death.

Upon these data the writer proceeds to investigate the clinical characters, the morbid anatomy, and the etiological relations of the disease, and leaves little room to doubt that the inferences drawn are strictly correct, as to the existence of typhoid fever.

which the subject is treated, the careful mode of investigation pursued, and the satisfactory results which followed upon the disease being recognized and upon the essential sanitary measures being carried out.

g the discrimination of typhoid fever from remittent and other fevers, and a wish expressed that the author had added instances of recovery from the disease as well as an outline of the treatment pursued both in fatal and recovered cases.

the treatment of intermittent fever by Sub-Assistant Surgeon Bazunjee Rustomjee were read, and after the meeting had expressed their best thanks to Mr. Hanburry for his valuable contribution, the President announced its adjournment till Saturday the 1st March next.

THE BOMBAY GREEN.

We publish below the proceedings connected with the proposed improvements to the Bombay Green. We have been several times to the Commissioners' office for these papers, and were on each occasion informed at they were not "available yet." On perceiving that our local contemporary of yesterday published Mr. Corbett's minute, our reporter called at the Communists' office for the papers connected with the above improvement, and on his complaining that no intention was sent to us saying that these papers were "available," we were surprised to hear that the editor of the Times had not obtained the minute of the Commissioners' office. We presume, therefore, that the Times must have become possessed of the document from Mr. Forjett. If so, we have a right to complain of the President's conduct.

MINUTE BY MR. FORJETT.

In the public places of every town in Europe

re statues of the reigning monarchs. And e s adorned by statues or pictures of Her Most Graci Majesty.

In Bombay we have statues to carry to rem posterity the memory of great and good men, by w wisdom and energy the power of Great Britain firmly established in India; but throughout the pr ency, the millions of our native fellow subjects in the enjoyment of all the blessings inherent in government of Her Majesty, we have neither p monuments, nor statues to commemorate Her M y's happy reign.

This want we should now endeavour to supply.

Sixty years ago the Bombay Green was the great cotton store of Bombay—the place where all cotton imported was deposited in the fair season, before it was sold and pressed for exportation.

Comparing the present with the past: the Cotton House and the cotton screw premises of olden times; the statue of Lord Cornwallis; the railing around

Green; the superior description of the recently erected edifices; and above all, that noble structure the Hall—there is no doubt that the locality has been considerably improved; but nevertheless the pre-appearance of the Green all will admit is a reproach to the commercial importance of the town and its wealthy inhabitants. Its position, too, when taken with line of Church Gate Street and the frontage of the Hall, is objectionable, from its being on one side therefore perspectively faulty. To render the what it ought to be, a public square worthy of

THE HUNTLEY LODGE, situated at the Atherton located in the Fort, was opened at Huntley Lodge, Boreilly, on the 26th March 1881. Mrs. Fanestone, the founder, has been designed to develop and discipline, rather than to fill the mind: to illuminate the intellect, to exhibit the beauties of science, and to afford an opportunity of education, of reflecting and reasoning, and of acquiring a liberal and useful knowledge. The object of the Institution is to let nothing pass through the mind of the child or young lady without being made the subject of reflection, and to draw questions or preparatory remarks, to think and reflect, and to make the mind of the young lady
